Butler's Idea. If Gen. Butler's idea was carried out, the people of this country would soon be saved the trouble of holding elections and of voting. In speaking of the Southern people on Thursday, in connection with his Mississippl bill, he said be "would wait to give the vote to the white men of the South, until it would be safe for all men to vote-until it would be safe for every Union man in the South to sleep in his cabin with the latch string Then he would go with the gentleman (Mr. Farneworth) for the white man, and not till then -so help him God,

What is Done With the Money. The value of last year's cotton orep estimated at $250,000 000. Hund's Mer chants' Magazine says that but a small amount of this found its way North, and the Southern press advise that it be spent at home. The real fact appears to be that the planters are not spending much of it at all, but hearding or "sinking it

Cause and Effect.

There may be something in the following speculations of the Cincinnati Enquirer, nithough the well known unseinshness of Senstor Morton will not give color to the motives that are attributed to him. The Enquirer says: "It may have been noticed that ex-Gov. Morton, of Indiana, has been the foremost champion of Grant on the foremost champion of Grant on the telegraph tenure-of-office question. The telegraph gives us the solution of the matter in the appointment of two of Morton's brothers-in law—one as Postmaster at Indian-ers-in law—one as Postmaster at Indian-apolis and the other as Governor of Dapolis and the other as Gove

Grant's Civil and Military Career. The Herald sees an analogy between Grant's civil and military career. He has met with some reverse in the beginning of his administration, as he did at Belmont and Shiloh, but he will hold on lighting gas-burner. until he wins a Vicksburg victory. The Herald concludes: "Therefore he might as well go on, make his appointments oute slide, and, after demoralizing the Recical party by a magnificent atracegic movement, erect a party of his own that will rally around him in any emergency. Thus will his political mission—beginning, like his military career, in a somewhat bungling manner end as that did, in an effidgent ray of glory, imparting alike motion and harmomy, confidence and prosperity all over the country."

Judge Houck presiding. The most re-markable fecture in the proceedings was the finding a true bill of indictment by the grand jury against about fifty of the most prominent citizens of Comberland and Bledsoe counties, charging them with murder in the first degree. Four of the number were immediately arrested Easter Sunday in the New Orin town, but were subsequently released acted upon the proposed Fifiteenth Amendment to the Constitution. The following statement has been carefully prepared, and is believed to be correct: Kansas ratified the amendment February 27; Louistana and Nevada, March 1; Missouri, March 2; West Virginia, March 3; North Carolina, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, March 5; Maine and South Carolina, March 11; Massachusetts, March 12; Arkansa-, March 15; and Penosylvania, March 25. tures of Missouri, Kansas and Nevada, in their haste to act upon the amendment previous to adjournment, raitfied a telegraphic report of it, and, as there is pronounced one of the most persuasive and make a specific report of the same were errors in that copy, their action is declared to be incomplete. This being to case, the Legislatures of those States mest again act upon the amendment at ately upon its conclusion, their next session.

The testimony elicited before the grand jury evidenced substantially as follows: About the hegioning of the late war troops of renegade Unionists from this State were constantly making their way to Kentucky to escape the conscriptive through Sequatchie valley, and ascending the mountain during the quiet hours of pight, was attacked at a piace known as Holloway's Lane by a band of citizens, and in the conflict Wm. Roberts, the pilot of the Unionists, was killed and others seriously wounded.

The Legislatures of Georgia and Delaware, on the 18th of March rejected resolutions ratifying the amendment. The Legislature of Rhode Island postponed its consideration until May. Several Democratic members of the Indiana Legislature resigned their seats in that body to prevent, through lack of a unorum, the ratification of the amendment.
